

Going beyond Digital Art and Performance: How Wearable Technologies Could Redefine A Dance

James She

Assistant Professor, Director, HKUST-NIE Social Media
Lab., Electronic & Computer Engineering, HKUST

Abstract

Digital media and electronic technologies have been offering creative visual and performing artists to produce and present their creative pieces or performances with new forms of medium and styles. With the emerging wearable, sensing and mobile technologies today, we are interested to see and discuss how a performance dance could be redefined."